RALLY! RALLY!!

There will be a Mass Meeting this evening, at the Falls City Market-house, at early gas light, when several speakers will be present and address the people on the issues of the day.

We publish in another column the instructions of the Confederate Attorney General as to the sequestration law passed by the Confederate Congress. For injustice, despotism and treachery to mankind, it is without a parallel in any civilized country.

Investments have been made in the South by men living in other States, under all the guarantees of the Federal Constitution, and trusting to the good faith of Southern people who invited these investments for their benefit. Now, the politicians of the Confederate States choose, for their ambitious purposes, to get up a rebellion and seize all the property owned within their limits by men who happen not to live within their jurisdiction. This adds treachery to robbery. Property has been enticed into their limits to be seized; men have been seduced into investments to be robbed. These Border Slave State Secessionists are to be exempt from the robbery for the present; but those who rob in this manner will not hesitate to rob each other before they are done.

A singular case of restoration after apparent death occurred on Wednesday, at Albany. A little daughter of Mrs. Wilson, residing on First street, after a sudden relapse succeeding a severe illness, apparently died. The body did not stiffen, but every other symptom of death was present. The remains were prepared for the grave, when on Wednesday night the supposed dead child screamed and immediately the functions of life were resumed. Heavy perspiration poured off the body in great quantities, and the pale, marble-like form assumed a healthy, red appearance. When the "dead" child screamed, those present, except the mother, became generally alarmed and ran out of the room. The mother rushed to the body, enclosed it in her arms, and removed it to a bed in the side room. The family physician was immediately sent for, who applied proper restoratives, and the child is now in a fair way of recovering.

JOSHUA F. SPEED, Esq.—We find the following tribute to a well known citizen in the letter of a Louisville correspondent of the New York Daily Times of recent date:

The arms secured for Kentucky were mainly procured by Mr. Speed. Kentucky owes him a great debt of gratitude for his untiring exertions in her behalf. Joshua F. Speed is not known as he should be. He is a modest, retiring, unassuming man; but his great practical wisdom is known to his friends. He is a man of large, comprehensive, practical common sense, and this is the substratum of his greatness. He is unquestionably a man of great wisdom. And in addition, and above all this, he is a man of true virtue, the purest honor, and the most incorruptible integrity. Mr. Guthrie, who is his neighbor and friend, fully appreciated him, and entertains the opinion of him I have expressed.

It is fortunate for Kentucky that Mr. Lincoln knows and appreciates Mr. Speed. In his early life, Mr. Speed lived in Springfield, Ill., for six or seven years, and during all the time he and President Lincoln were on the most intimate terms, and for over four years they were room-mates. The most intimate relations have always existed between them, and they are now said to be as intimate and cordial as brothers. I esteem it fortunate for Kentucky, in this hour of peril, that one of her sons is known to the head of the Federal Government to be a prudent and wise man, worthy of all confidence. Mr. S. has rendered the State great service, and will ever be ready to devote himself to the cause of the State and the Government.

GENERAL SHERMAN—HIS ANTECEDENTS

The Philadelphia Press thus notices General Sherman, who has been appointed the successor to General Anderson in the department of Cumberland, Ky. It says:

"This same Gen. Sherman—brother of Senator John Sherman, of Ohio, himself a host in the present struggle for freedom—is an educated soldier. His qualities as a scholar are proved by the fact that he was placed at the head of the State University of Louisiana, where he became so great a favorite that when he retired from it, on account of the secession conspiracy, headed by Slidell, the whole faculty, and the State authorities, united in paying a spontaneous tribute to his splendid abilities, his Christian modesty and moderation, and his frank and candid character. Added to this, he is a thorough, well-trained, long-seasoned soldier, who, while carrying his sword, is a amateur actor, and re-enact old comedies and extravaganzas. Whatever anxiety they may feel, or whatever unpleasant thoughts may intrude, are generally unexpressed, and the most are philosophical enough to make the best of their situation by endeavoring to appear as jolly as possible."

Buckner must have been a good deal frightened to blow up the bridge across Green river. He is not coming this way, then. Our troops will soon, we trust, pay him a visit. The Confederates are under promise to leave the State as soon as the Federal troops leave it. We expect they will leave soon, and the Federal troops close after them. That's the nearest we can promise to accommodate them.

Brownson, like Greeley, thinks that to put down this rebellion, slavery must be put down, or the rebellion can't be put down. Brownson never had any common sense. His present opinion is not unexpected. He must say something foolish, and had as well say this as anything else.

Captain C. N. Goulding has been duly appointed Quartermaster on General Rosecrans' staff. The Captain held the post for a time, before the advance on Carnifex's Ferry, and discharged his duties in a manner that many of the Quartermasters in Western Virginia would do well to imitate.

Letters received in the city from points beyond Elizabethtown, as late as the 15th, state positively that Green river bridge has been rendered useless, if not entirely destroyed. The ends of the bridge will be let down by blowing up the abutments, and while the middle remains in position it is very much injured and of course useless.

A GOOD WORK—On Friday some of the good Union ladies of Frankfort started out to raise socks and blankets for the suffering soldiers at Camp Dick Robinson. They soon collected seventy-five pair of woolen socks, and about a hundred blankets and comforts.

APPOINTMENT.—Dr. A. Neat has been appointed Surgeon of the 2d Tennessee regiment—Col. Carter—at Camp Dick Robinson. This is a good thing both for the army and the Doctor, and we congratulate both accordingly.

A GRAND REVIEW.—The regiment of Colonel Oily Buckshot will be reviewed at the counting room of Adjutant Marshall Halbert, at 10 o'clock, this morning, by Generals Silas F. Miller and J. G. Mathers.

John Wagner, a resident of Scioto Township, Pike county, Ohio, committed suicide—so says the Peketon Press—because he feared his sons would be drafted into the army.

A Word to Newspaper Readers. The Daily Morning Democrat and Evening News supply all the dispatches, local and general news. Those who wish to keep posted with the stirring events of the times, should be supplied with both editions. The morning edition costs twenty-five (25) cents for every two weeks, and the evening edition fifteen (15) cents for two weeks. This places a paper within the reach of all.

The News.

Our dispatches this morning contradict those of yesterday afternoon, in some particulars. The report that the rebels had the banks of the Potomac lined for four miles is contradicted as nonsense. The Saranac was not destroyed in a storm off the mouth of the Mississippi; but the Panama Star of October 1st says that she had gone to Tobago for repairs, having been somewhat injured in a gale.

GREEN RIVER BRIDGE NOT DESTROYED.—We learn that a gentleman came to the city by the Nashville Railroad, who left Charleston, S. C., on the 10th, and, with a pass from the British Consul, passed through the lines. He states that he crossed Green river on the bridge yesterday, and consequently it cannot be destroyed. We did not see him, but understand that he has stated this much in the city, since his arrival.

Our dispatches this morning contain full particulars of the destruction of a bridge in Missouri, by Jeff. Thompson with 600 men, and his capture of a small body of 40 or 50 Union troops, after a slight skirmish. He threatens Pilot Knob and Ironton.

Police Court.

HON. G. W. JOHNSTON, Judge.

OCTOBER 16, 1861.

Peter Gramage, fighting and assaulting a small boy, and disturbing religious worship; discharged.

Thomas Skell, charged with whipping his wife; bail in $100 for two months.

John and Mike Finn, for abusing their families; bail of each in $200 for six months.

Thomas Stories, drunkenness; sent to the workhouse for one month.

John Crowley, stealing $10 75 from T. J. Silcott; discharged.

Warren, a slave of Mrs. Twyman, charged with stealing six pair of boots from R. D. E. Powell, and a pair of pants from Mr. Richardson; remanded to jail until to-morrow morning.

INQUEST NO. 310.—Held at the Fair Grounds, over the body of George F. Adams, aged 21 years, a German. Deceased was a member of Captain Ruckstuhl's company, Col. Bayles' Cavalry Regiment. Verdict—"Came to his death on the morning of the 15th inst. from the accidental discharge of a musket in the hands of G. Rasure, a companion-in-arms, who was on duty as guard at the time. The ball entered the body in front, just below the sternum, passing out at the back, and through the coat sleeve of a companion whose arm was resting upon the back of the deceased."

J. M. BUCHANAN, Coroner.

GOING BACK.—Buckner's vandals have destroyed Green river bridge to delay the attack of Generals McCook and Rousseau, and last week his agents were busy annulling contracts made at the time of his invasion. There can be but one reason; notwithstanding the presence with him, according to his reports, of 20,000 men, he finds it impossible to keep his men in subjection, doing nothing, and utterly unable as he is to keep the huge promises made to them, and that motive is to go back to Tennessee.

WE learn from the St. Louis Evening News that Rev. R. D. McAnally, editor of the Christian Advocate, of that city, has been ordered under arrest, on the charge of publishing treasonable matter in the columns of his paper. Can't the publishers or the editors of the N. Y. Independent, the Liberator, Anti-Slavery Standard, and a few more Abolition papers, which are full of treason every week, be arrested also?

The Cordon Democrat says there was much excitement in the town of Mauckport, on the river, a few days ago, caused by a rumor that some Secessionists from Meade county, Ky., intended to make a raid upon the place. The Union men of Brandenburg advised the Mauckport people of the threat, when, finding them prepared, the affair was abandoned.

Our dispatches yesterday morning state that the Connecticut Legislature had ordered the portraits of some parties to be removed from the walls of the capitol, and the name of Isaac Toucey only was mentioned. The other party was Thomas H. Seymour.

The government is paying the Kentucky recruits one month's pay in advance. Happy Kentuckians!—New Albany Ledger, 10th.

All a mistake, friend Ledger. The State of Kentucky is paying her volunteers one month's pay in advance.

NEWS FROM THE SANDY VALLEY.—News comes to us from Lawrence county, Ky., that on Saturday night last several houses were burned in the town of Louisi, the county seat, and that five or six thousand rebels were then marching to attack the town. Nearly all the men had gone down to Caletsburg, Boyd county, for assistance. Col. Moore's regiment is organizing in or near Caletsburg, and the determination amongst the Union men of Boyd county, if they were attacked, as seemed to be the programme, they would do the best fighting they could. These rebels are either the crowd that Breckinridge, Preston &amp; Co. have been organizing in Prestonsburg, Floyd county, or they are a portion of the Virginia marauders who, unable to face Rosecrans, have entered Kentucky through the pass called the Sounding Gap, through which gap a good road leads from Virginia to Prestonsburg down the Sandy river valley.

It is confidently believed by the Union men of the Sandy Valley region that three or four thousand men will take up arms there to repel the invasion or subdue the rebellion if they can be armed and aided with three or four regiments of already organized troops. From Cincinnati to Greenupburg the means of transportation are abundant, and three or four days would suffice to throw into the eastern part of the State forces enough to drive out or capture the rebels.

Sad Accident.—Two Officers Drowned in Gauley River—Organization of Home Guards.

CROSS LANES, Oct. 10, 1861.

Editors Commercial: We had a very sad accident happen here yesterday. Lieut. Col. Elliott sent out a scouting party to cross Gauley River to look after a few rebels that have been seen from this side. The party was under the command of Lieutenant Horace A. Egbert and Sergeant Sprague, of Toledo, O. When crossing, the boat sunk just above the Falls, and both were drowned. The river is very rapid at this place. Lieutenant Egbert was a man that every one that knew him thought well of.

At a meeting of the Union men of this country (Nicholas), held here on Saturday, for the purpose of forming a Home Guard, there were eighty-seven took the oath and joined the company. Colonel Elliot is doing good work in this part of the State. There is to be another meeting held here this week, and we look for a big crowd. Respectfully yours, R. I. Brown, Private 47th Regiment.

Private 47th Regiment.

Good News to Our Lady READERS.—Edward I. Grauman &amp; Co. have received their third consignment—$6,000 worth—of fall and winter dry goods, which will be sold on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, October 16th, 17th, 18th, and 19th, commencing each day at 10 o'clock, and continue all day, at the new auction and commission house, No. 222 Fourth street, between Main and Market. The goods consists as follows: English and Mackinaw blankets, cloths, cassimeres, satins, bleached and unbleached muslins. Also, 5,000 yards different brands prints, ginghams, plaids, French and English merinos, dalmains, velvets, coverlets, a large variety of all wool shawls, embroideries, Irish linen, tablecloths, pocket handkerchiefs, ladies' hose, table cutlery; also, 1,000 pair of misses' garters, shoes, &amp;c., &amp;c. The above articles must and will be sold at prices that every lady customer is bound to find satisfactory. Ladies, if you want to buy goods at your own prices, be sure and attend this sale. Terms of sale—cash on delivery. E. I. GRAUMAN &amp; CO. Auctioneers.

The New York Times estimates that it will require from America, to feed a portion of Europe, the present season, not less than nine thousand cargoes of 16,000 bushels each—carrying 2,769,224 bushels weekly without intermission the whole year. This quantity of wheat alone it would be simply impossible to furnish, and the deficiency of course will be made up in coarse grains. It is argued from the fact that the Greek merchants have recently been heavy buyers of corn in this market that the corn crop of the Danube and Mediterranean is also deficient, and that in this article as well the United States will be in no danger of ruinous competition.

Just received by express, a large sum of handsome dress goods, which will be sold from 25 to 30 per cent. cheaper than the same goods were ever offered in this market. Fifty pieces satin faced merinos at $1 to $1 1/2; 100 pieces plain do at 75 cents; 100 pieces French repts at $1 25; 100 pieces poplin at $1; 50 pieces silk poplin at $1 50. These goods are all double width, and the best qualities in the market. In addition to these goods, there are many bargains to be had in our large stock.

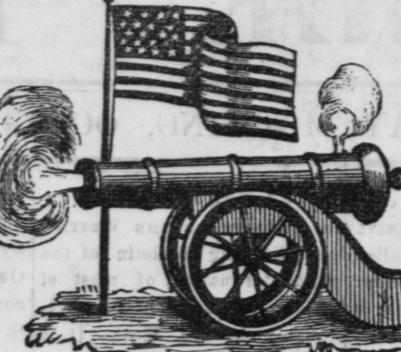

S. BARKER &amp; CO., 317 Fourth Street, Louisville, Ky. oct16 d2.

The Jefferson Home Guards having, by resolution of the company, determined to continue their organization, all members who have not received guns and uniforms are requested to come forward and be supplied by the company from those left by members joining the United States service. Meetings at Beck's Hall on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

D. W. HENDERSON, d1 Lieutenant Commanding.

FOR THE SOLDIERS.—We have now in store, and to arrive, a pure article of white navy beans, all kinds of bacon, onions, kraut, butter, lake fish, in quantities to suit, from one barrel or cask up. We will sell very low for cash, to close consignment. We are also agents for an extra refined coal oil and the Meade oil. CLIFFORD &amp; CO., 226 Main street.

GRAND GATHERING

IN OLD WASHINGTON!

Wednesday next, the 23d instant, Col. Harlan, by invitation of the people of Washington, will visit Springfield with the whole of the force under his command. The soldiers will be given a sumptuous dinner by the ladies of Washington. Let all the people of that county come out to receive the gallant boys who are willing to peril all for the defense and honor of Kentucky and the Union. Let the young men of Washington meet Col. Harlan, on Wednesday next, and enroll themselves as members of his regiment. They will be supplied with arms as soon as they enlist.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE CUMBERLAND, LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 9, 1861.

The following plan for organizing troops in Kentucky for service for "three years or during the war," has been agreed on between the State Military Board and the Commanding General:

The Military Board will appoint, at the various places where volunteers are offering, mustering officers, who will muster in and receive volunteers as they are presented.

The Board will also supply to its agents funds for paying the expenses incurred, and for the supply of such articles of clothing and camp equipage as are necessary before uniforms are issued.

As soon as ten companies of a regiment are complete, they will be mustered into the service of the United States, and supplied with arms, accoutrements, uniforms, and transportation to the place of service by the regular Quartermaster of the United States.

Also at points convenient to the Subsistence Departments, provisions will be issued to the companies during the process of formation.

Where persons have been authorized to raise regiments and may succeed in doing so, they will be commissioned as Colonels; but if this occasion delays, the Captains of companies may form themselves into regiments of ten companies, assemble at a rendezvous, and submit their choice of Colonel, Lieutenant Colonel, and Major for commissions.

If they do not voluntarily form such organization, the commanding General will order them as independent companies to join together at convenient points, and there form them into regiments and battalions, appointing the necessary field officers.

Ratified by the Military Board in session at Frankfort, October 12, 1861, and signed at this 12th day of October, 1861.

W. T. SHERMAN, Brigadier General.
